New Form/Modification: Modification, last update 4/97

Modifications: Two changes have been made to accommodate those situations when the date the judge signs the dispositional order is later than the date the judge ordered the specific dispositions. A new #1 in the findings has been added for the date of the dispositional hearing. At the end of the form, the line for "expiration date" has been modified by adding the words "order effective day of hearing."

1997 Wis. Act 183 amended §938.343(4), to allow the court to order services to be performed by the juvenile for the victim as a type of restitution for the juvenile's act if the victim agrees. A new #3b has been added making the finding that the juvenile is physically able to perform such services and that the victim agrees to having them done. In the order section #2 has been revised accordingly.

1997 Wis. Act 205 amended §938.34(8) to require a finding that the juvenile alone is financially able to pay a forfeiture. This language has been added in #3a as a new finding. Act 205 also created §938.45(1r) to allow the court to order the custodial parent of a juvenile to make reasonable restitution and forfeiture for the juvenile's acts. That section requires any order under this section include a finding that the parent who has custody of the juvenile is financially able to pay the amount ordered. This has been added as a new finding #3c. In the order section #2 and #3 have been revised accordingly.

Section 938.37, Wisconsin Statutes, allows the court to assign costs against the juvenile only if the juvenile is age 14 or over. Item #4 of the order section has been modified to clarify the 14 or over requirement.
